Mr. and Mrs. Lohske were married in July 1903 in Chicago, Ill. where they spent the first 7 years of their married life and where their only son Carl was born. In 1910 the family of three set out for the western plains of southern and sunny Alberta.

Many beautiful, personal gifts were also received by the couple to which Mr. and Mrs. Lohske and son Carl replied most fittingly.

ALBERTA FARM OUTPUT UP BUT NET INCOME DOWN

EDMONTON (BUP) — Agriculture production in Alberta last year reached its second-highest level on record. Cash income from the sale of farm products was up, but net income of the province's 250,000 farmers dropped well below 1951. There were more than 84,000 farms in 1951.

Provincial Agriculture Minister Ure made these disclosures as the agriculture department issued its summary of statistics.

Total agricultural production last year was valued at $804,511,000 compared to $762,049,000 in 1951. Volume of production was scaled at 174, using the 1935-30 average as 100. It was the second highest year on record, the all-time high being established in 1942.

Net farm income, however, was down from 1951, to $372,328,000 compared to $401,309,000 the previous year. This was despite a rise in gross cash income, from $470,282,000 to $509,009,000.

Total value of field crops—the major one of which was wheat followed by barley and oats—reached $559,644,000, an increase from $503,067,000 in 1951. Total acreage of 14,276,978 acres was up from the previous year's level of 14,077,395 acres.

Total livestock production, including dairy and poultry products was valued at $244,867,000, which was a drop from the 1951 value of $253,982,000.

The lower value was reflected in lower numbers of livestock and decreased dairy production. Livestock in Alberta dropped from 261,000 to 239,700, head and dairy production declined from 734,548,000 pounds to 686,000 pounds.

Can Earn Money And Still Get Baby Bonus

EDMONTON (BUP)—A child, whose family is claiming family allowance benefits on his behalf, may now work for wages providing he attends school regularly, H. C. L. Gillman, regional director of the Department of Health and Welfare says. He was announcing changes in regulations governing the distribution of family allowances in Alberta.

Another regulation states that a person moving to a new address, must notify the office within 90 days, or forfeit the allowance for this period. Should the department be notified of the change in address after 90 days have elapsed, the payments will start the month after the notification.

During June, 149,117 families received allowances on behalf of 326,225 children.

Compulsory Retirement Age Abolished

A Canadian Press despatch from Ottawa, says the Federal Government recently washed out the arbitrary retirement age of 65 years for civil servants; raised the age limit for hiring older personnel and lowered the age at which younger persons may be employed.

Under the order-in-council, previously prescribed age limits may be waived when qualified candidates within the limits are not available. This means that the previous age restrictions of 18 to 35 years for hiring has changed and now is 17 to approximately 40 years. The Civil Service Commission said "physical and mental fitness" will be the deciding factor henceforth. Previously, a senior civil servant wishing to work beyond the compulsory retirement age had to obtain special authorization. Now the department involved has only to agree to continuation of the employee and he may stay on the job.

Movie-Making In Jasper

Movie Columnist Phil Scheuer of the Los Angeles Times says, "Twentieth Century-Fox troupe will live aboard a special train while shooting 'River of No Return' in Jasper National Park. Director Otto Preminger will precede the company there June 27 to be followed by Marilyn Monroe, Robert Mitchum and Rory Calhoun on July 17. The Monroe will substitute typical western garb for gowns and wear her hair shoulder length."

Still Can't Allow Dogs To Be At Large

EDMONTON — Although the last positive case of rabies in Alberta was reported June 17, residents must not ease their efforts in guarding against the disease, Dr. R. B. Catt warned Friday.

The chief veterinarian with the federal health of animals division reminded all Albertans that the province is still quarantined and that dogs must not be allowed to run at large.

BACK ROAD FOLKS—ANOTHER SPEED BUG GOES OFF HIS ROCKER—

News Oddities

Carrots To The Rescue

CINCINNATI, O.—A circus train, speeding toward a mid-Western town where the circus had a scheduled performance that evening, came to a low bridge. The train came to an abrupt halt and trainmen were faced with the problem of trying to persuade its prized giraffe to withdraw its head so that the train could go under the bridge. A freight clearance expert summoned from the nearby town, solved the problem. He produced a bunch of carrots and dropped them into the giraffe's cage. The giraffe, reaching for the carrots, ducked his head and the engineer opened the throttle and sped through the bridge.

Bank Robbed Twice

SEATTLE, Wash.—For the second time in two weeks, an armed man entered the Lynnwood branch of the Everett First National Bank and escaped with $11,238. On May 29, the bank was robbed of $50,570. Warren D. Smith, a paroled ex-convict, was arrested the next day and confessed the robbery.

Motor 'Coughs Up' The Cat

SYRACUSE, N.Y.—Puzzled as to why his automobile's motor coughed and sputtered, James E. Knapp got out and looked under the hood. Fanned under the fan belt was a large "blob of matted fur"—his Angora cat. Borrowing some tools, Knapp released the cat, unharmed.

Live Lawn Mowers

DANVILLE, Va.—Want to keep that lawn of yours impeccable—get some sheep! That's the advice of officials of the Dan River Mills here, who have a flock of nine sheep which keep the grounds beautifully. The initial flock has worked so well, the management plans to buy more sheep for two other plants.

Lays Two-Tone Eggs

WEBSTER CITY, Iowa—A hen on the farm of Carl Olson started laying about six weeks ago. There isn't anything remarkable about the hen's laying except that she lays two-tone eggs. The shells are half brown and half white, but are normal in every other respect.

Lots Of Trouble

BALTIMORE, Md.—The thieves who entered a night club recently and battered open a safe went to a great deal of unnecessary trouble. The safe, containing $3,000 was unlocked. They took the money, however.

Sees His Family After 17 Years

OXFORD, Miss.—F. E. Pitts, a Tennessee dairy executive recently saw his wife and son for the first time in 17 years, after a delicate eye operation. He got only brief glimpses of them as doctors changed the bandages on his eyes. The last time he saw his son, he was only seven. Peace At Last

At long last, following over three years of war in which from three to five millions of people, soldiers and civilians died, we have peace—an uneasy peace—in Korea.

What on the surface may appear as one of the most useless of wars and senseless of human carnage may in reality prove to be an important step in the maintenance of world peace. For the first time in human history the nations of the world have united to stop aggression.

In June 1950, North Korea invaded its neighbor, the Republic of South Korea in the expectation, we have no doubt, that the Free Nations of the World would not protest this extension of the Communist Iron Curtain. But the United Nations, led by the United States under President Harry Truman rallied to the defence of South Korea and drove the enemy back north across the 38th Parallel comprising the boundary between the two countries on the Korean Peninsula.

The Chinese then went to the aid of North Korea and the combined communist armies managed to drive the United Nations troops back to a line which with a few changes back and forth has remained static roughly along the 38th Parallel. As truce terms were finally signed early this week, it will now be a matter for the diplomats to work out acceptable Peace Treaty terms.

Led by fiery President Rhee, South Korea has threatened to go back to fighting if the Peace Treaty isn't concluded fairly soon. There are other possibilities open for the God of War, such as intensified Communist attacks in South East Asia and renewed agitation in Europe. But for the time being the bloody fighting and killing in Korea is ended and Canadians, with other nations of the world, may rejoice in humble thanksgiving that the Dove of Peace has silenced the guns of war in Korea.

Mr. Coldwell's Comments

Though the leader of the C.C.F. party in Canada, Mr. Coldwell, hasn't made the headlines on news of his own party in this election campaign he has managed to say a few things about the Conservatives, which don't make good reading for Canada's Second Party leaders.

Two weeks ago in Saskatoon he stated that Hon. George Drew's offer to reduce taxes by half a billion dollars "is the most dishonest political promise made in Canada since Social Credit promised to pay everyone in Alberta $25.00 per month in 1935."

Then, last week he prophesied that, far from making gains in the August 10th election, the Progressive Conservatives would actually lose several seats in the east and send to Ottawa nothing better than a "Corporal's Guard" from the west.

Though disagreeing with Mr. Coldwell on many aspects of his political philosophy, we would not accuse him of dishonesty and do not think he should throw aspersions on the political intentions of his opponents.

It is a matter of historical fact that Social Credit did not keep its 1935 promise to pay $25.00 per month. They evidently thought before the 1935 election that they could, but if they had taken the trouble to investigate Mr. Aberhart and his followers might easily have found out before hand that money matters in Canada are in the hands of the federal government and not left to provincial jurisdiction.

We aren't much concerned about Mr. Drew's ability to keep his promise to reduce taxes. Mr. Drew is an intelligent man and must have some plan worked out to increase expenditures by a billion dollars and cut taxes by half a billion at the same time. But then, he too could be mistaken, and anyway he won't win in the August 10th election so won't be called upon to keep his promise.

Incidentally, we think Mr. Drew should have a good, long, heart-to-heart talk with Premier Manning of Alberta. Mr. Drew's idea of spending more money and cutting taxes at the same time is explainable only by the use of Social Credit philosophy. And if the Progressive Conservative party is to continue as a national force in Canada it can do it in only one way—translation into the Social Credit party as has already taken place in British Columbia.

Finds Tools 500,000 Years Old

Professor Camille Arambourg, of the Museum of Natural History in Paris, recently dug up several crudely-formed stone implements which may be the oldest known implements of man. The discovery of these tools indicates the existence of a form of humanity at the beginning of the Ice Age.

No human remains were found in Professor Arambourg's excavations, which have been carried on for a number of years in his search for fauna. But the discovery is taken to indicate that primitive creatures roaming North Africa 500,000 years ago were capable of mechanical thought.

Leading anthropologists and archeologists the world over have expressed intense interest in the discovery, which took place in Northern Algeria, not too far from the Mediterranean coast. Similar discoveries in the past have enabled man to reconstruct some of the ancient habits and characteristics of ancient people.

The Dreaded Wheat Stem Rust

Canada has developed a new variety of wheat—No. C.T. 186—that is resistant against the new form of rust 15-B. The United States has developed a similar variety, a derivative of Kenya wheat. It is noted, however, that these new varieties are not resistant to other races of rust, traces of which have been identified in Mexico, and which have been given the numbers 139, 49 and 11, and which may one day appear upon the Canadian scene. It looks, then, as though the time has come when we have to do more research on the nature of rust-resistance, on how Nature produces these new races of rust, and on the chances of us producing varieties that will resist all races of rust. This kind of scientific work is called Fundamental Research. Very little of it is being done in this country, or anywhere else for that matter, but it does seem as though it must be the next order on the program. It would seem, then, that either Governments or Private Enterprises, or both, must somehow allocate more funds to enable our talented scientists to do more Fundamental Research work on this most important agricultural program.

Plain Impudence

(Calgary Albertan)

One day last week The Albertan editorialized to the effect that intelligent and refined heckling would enliven and therefore improve Canadian politics. Unfortunately the first case of heckling to come to our attention since then was anything but intelligent and refined.

Prime Minister St. Laurent was the victim of plain dirty insults at his Edmonton meeting. One member of the audience called out "you old goat," and another said "you're just a bunch of phoney's, go back to Quebec."

That's not heckling. It's plain impudence, stupid bad manners. The perpetrators should have been turned over someone's knee and paddled, for obviously they are spoiled brats.

The legitimate purpose of good heckling is to expose fraud in a speech or bring the speaker down to earth, business and facts. It isn't abusive or irrelevant. Above all, it isn't name-calling.

The Edmonton hecklers should feel ashamed of themselves. We didn't know there was such a low type of citizen in Alberta.

You can send a message around the world in the seventh of a second, yet it may take years to force a simple idea through one-quarter inch of a human skull.

VATICAN AMBASSADOR

May I have space in your "letters" column to ask a timely, pertinent question, namely, "How many Protestants would willingly acquiesce in the appointment of an ambassador to the Vatican?"

It is reported that the Prime Minister, Mr. St. Laurent, has stated to Quebec constituents that this is his objective if re-elected on August 10, although he adroitly omitted it from his western lullaby speeches.

Since the Vatican is neither a state or nation it is no more entitled to an ambassador than the Anglican Synod or any other religious institution.

It surely is "time for a change" in Ottawa.

SILENT REDS

This is my gripe: I am a Social Creditor and don't object to saying so, because I have nothing to conceal. So how about you people who belong to the so-called Labor-Progressive party? Why are you ashamed to call yourselves Communists? If you have nothing to conceal, why not admit it?

CHECKING ALL DRIVERS

In view of mounting traffic accidents, my opinion is that a reduction is possible in only one more way. Now that all vehicles have to be checked mechanically every year and every new driver has to take a driver's check-up, how about stopping drinkers from driving? It's against the law for a person to drive after having a drink. Why not enforce it?

WITH A NEST ON TOP

While I was vacationing in Georgia, walking down the street one day with my new hair-do, which I admit was fixed some thing in the style of a bird's nest, I felt something swoop down on my head. At first I thought it was a piece of paper, but when it began pecking and scratching I knew it was a bird. This occurred twice. Some strange things happen around there.

ELIZABETH D.

There's a Difference

The school teacher was taking her first golfing lesson. "Is the world spelled p-u-t or p-u-t-t?" she asked the instructor.

"P-u-t-t is correct," he replied. "P-u-t means to place a thing where you want. P-u-t means merely a vain attempt to do the same thing."

SUGAR FORMULA

Volcer of Edmonton asked: "How to soften brown sugar that has hardened in the bottom of the sugar box?"

My solution to this problem is a tried and true remedy: Put the sugar in a brown paper bag and place in the bread box with uncovered loaves of bread. The sugar will soften up in a few days.

I always keep my brown sugar in the bread box and never have any trouble with it hardening. Of course, I bake my own bread, so never have it wrapped in wax paper.

Hoping this hint helps out.

THE BLUNDERS

Again we find our farmers and ranchers backing a plan to sell surplus products to the Government for storage. They are interested only in getting every cent possible out of this food, even if many people have to go without because they have not witerwith to buy. Isn't it time to let some of God's truth sink into these thick skulls of ours? Isn't it time for men to admit they are unable to govern themselves and call upon God Almighty to take over?

LETTER TO LOUISA

Husband Harsh With Children, Refuses Allow Dating Privileges

Dear Louisa:

My husband is very strict with the children. In fact, he is so much so that his methods seem to be doing the very thing that he is trying to prevent.

He does not allow our high school daughter to have dates or go to parties nor does he let our sixteen year old son drive the car. They must be in bed at ten o'clock week days and week-ends.

The children have gotten very rebellious here of late and the boy has threatened to stop school and go off to work where he can have some fun. Our daughter is absolutely boy crazy and deceives us by meeting dates in the movies.

I am very much distressed over the whole situation because I know that my husband is doing what he thinks is best for the children but what I think is ruining them.

What course must I take?

Mother.

Answer:

Your husband is still living in a world of the past. He fails to realize that people have learned that the proper way of rearing children is by guidance and love rather than by force.

We may lay down a thousand rules and try to keep our lambs from the temptations of the world but it will be of no avail if we have not earned their trust and confidence.

It is impossible to protect our children from the temptations of the world and our best safe-guard for them is to teach them to be independent. Show them by word and precept the right way to live and then give them a normal amount of liberty.

You are, certainly, doing your child no good if you cause them to run away from home. He is utterly unprepared to fend for himself as he has never had any experience with freedom and is likely to come to some bad end. And the same thing applies to your daughter.

If she is accustomed to going with boys and regards them as friends, she will be able to judge them better and not fall for the first rotten apple that shows her a little bit of attention. I do not excuse the girl for meeting her dates on the sly — such behaviour does her or her reputation no good — but her father is more to be blamed than she. Every girl has a right to a decent home in which to entertain her friends — boys or girls.

Your husband had better wake up before it is too late or he is in line for some disagreeable shocks.

Yours,
LOUISA

Handwriting Shows Prince Philip Boss

TORONTO (BUP)—Handwriting analyst Muriel Stafford said the signature of Queen Elizabeth II revealed an "idealistic nature, gracious personality, and a keen, quick mind."

"But Prince Philip's showed he was boss in the home.

Miss Stafford said Her Majesty's signature revealed "restraint and a level head," "a talent for leadership and ability to organize," and "quite a bit of self-consciousness."

"The graceful curves of the 'E' also reveal humor and graciousness," she said. "Following the capital are letters that in their angularity indicate quite a bit of self-consciousness."

"Some impatience is evident in the abrupt termination of a word. Whatever she suffers inwardly from such emotional reactions is not allowed to make her act impetuously or disturb her outward poise.

"The slant of letters, very slightly rightward, shows emotional restraint. One trait controls another."

Miss Stafford said the very tall capital with which Prince Philip begins his name was "the expression of an independent, self-assured nature and impressive personality."

"Whatever his position may be in the state, domestically Prince Philip must be truly head of his household," she said.

She also found in Philip an astute mind that analyzes everything with keen, quiet appraisal, and the ability to supervise even the most minute details.

The article said both Elizabeth and Philip wrote with a small middle-zone of letters, tall upper loops and a fluent pen.

"Most similarity shown in the handwritings of a married couple make for congeniality and mutual understanding," she concluded.

Disinfection

The term "disinfection" is applied to those procedures that have for their purpose the destruction outside the body of the organisms which communicate disease. One should aim to destroy them immediately after they are discharged from the body of the infected person. This is called "concurrent disinfection" and is much more effective than "terminal disinfection" which is an attempt to clean up the entire house when the "germs" are widely spread at the end of the cases. Proper concurrent disinfection does away with the need for terminal disinfection or very materially reduces it.

Whenever possible, discharge from communicable disease cases which may carry the infecting organism should be destroyed by burning or by live steam in a proper sterilizer.

Ordinary clothing and bed clothing can be adequately disinfected by boiling in water for a few minutes and this is the proper system of destroying infection on dishes.

Thorough washing of dishes, clothing, bed frames and the floors and woodwork of the sick room has been found in practice to be a very effective method of removing or destroying the infective organisms of all our ordinary communicable diseases.

There are a large number of antiseptics which work very well when properly used. The mixing of two antiseptics may actually reduce their efficiency as the two chemicals may interfere with each other.

To effectively disinfect, any chemical must come into intimate contact with the object to be disinfected and must have time to act. With many chemicals temperature is an important factor; most disinfectants being much less active when the temperature is down close to freezing point.

The following methods may be used:

Domestic Lye—A heaping teaspoonful of lye is effective in disinfecting body excretions. If the substance to be disinfected is solid it should be broken up to improve contact. Enough water is added to completely cover the substance. Time necessary—30 minutes.

Liquid Carbolic—Enough of a saturated solution (in water) should be used to just cover the material to be disinfected. Time necessary—30 minutes.

Compound Cresol Solution can be purchased at any drug store. One part of cresol solution should be added for every ten parts of substance to be disinfected. Add enough water to just cover the material. Time necessary—30 minutes.

Lysol is very similar to compound cresol solution and may be used in the same way.

Chloride of Lime may be used if the contents of the package has been recently manufactured and if

WHEAT CROP IN ALBERTA IS 50 PER CENT HEADED

Almost half of the wheat crop in Alberta is now headed, about one week later than last year, according to the Alberta Wheat Pool's crop report; but wheat along the western edge of the province is much later and will be in danger of frost damage this autumn.

Generally all crops made excellent progress last week during the hot spell. Despite the excessive rain last month, further rain is now needed to replace dwindling top soil moisture.

About 10 per cent of the Wheat Pool agents observed some deterioration through lack of moisture, particularly along the eastern side of Alberta.

General condition of the wheat crop now averages 93, a decline of one point during the past week but still above average.

Best crops in the whole of Alberta continue to grow in the Peace River district where wheat is well above average at 23 inches high. In the eastern part of the district the numerical condition of barley stands as high as 120.

Prospects are considerably worse

Destroy 48 Pigs In Cholera Area

FORT ERIE, Ont. (BUP)—Forty-eight pigs have been destroyed in a new outbreak of hog cholera in Western Ontario, a check of farms in this area discloses.

One farmer alone estimated his loss at $2,000.

The outbreak followed optimistic reports from the Kitchener area that the disease there had been erased completely.

The pigs were reported to have been destroyed under the supervision of the Fort Erie office of the Federal Department of Agriculture.

The farmer who suffered the most extensive losses said every precaution had been taken to avoid a spread of the disease.

He was at a loss to ascertain how the cholera broke out. He said his premises had been kept immaculately clean and that a preventive serum had been administered to his swine regularly.

SYDNEY, Aus. (BUP)—Sister Elizabeth Kenny, world renowned for her successful treatment of poliomyelitis, left an estate of $48,000, her will disclosed.

Miss Kenny willed her awards and trophies to James Henry, Bradshaw, Mintener and Lloyd Johnson, all of Minneapolis, Minn., to be kept as a collection for the benefit of the community.

Her Florence Nightingale desk and prayer book were left to the United Nations.

The bulk of the estate was bequeathed to close friends and relatives in Australia.

the solution is freshly prepared each time. Add five ounces of chloride of lime to one gallon of water and use enough of this solution to cover completely the substance to be disinfected. Time necessary—30 minutes.

Sunshine and Fresh Air are very efficient antiseptics if properly applied for an adequate time. Blankets and mattresses may be disinfected in this way if they are not very heavily contaminated. Mattresses should be turned over so that all sides get the effect of direct sunlight. Time necessary—several hours of direct sunlight.

Soap and Hot Water is a mild antiseptic and does a very good job in actually removing germs from any article which is thoroughly washed.

Alcohol is a very weak antiseptic and should not be used for disinfection purposes.

in the districts immediately south and east of Calgary to Nanton, Barons, Vauxhall and Brooks. There the condition of crops is estimated at between 82 and 91.

Stations reporting deterioration due to drought were mainly in the Coronation - Wainwright district, but other reports were received from Vermilion, Medicine Hat and Foremost districts.

A grain official explained that crops would suffer more from drought this year because the heavy rains earlier had caused them to spread their roots in the top-soil. When the seeding season is dry the roots dig deeply for moisture.

ERGOT CONTROL NEEDS ATTENTION

The ergot disease of rye and other cereals is becoming a serious menace to grain crop production in Western Canada.

Export Markets Affected. According to the Grain Division, Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, grain authorities in Belgium have become seriously concerned with the amount of ergot in shipments of Canadian rye. On June 25, 1953, the Belgian government commenced rigid enforcement of laws forbidding the importation of rye containing ergot. As a result, some Belgian grain importers have already refused to purchase Canadian rye because of the amount of ergot it contains. In plain words, ergot is reducing the export demand for Canadian rye.

Ergot Control. Rye is particularly susceptible to ergot. As none of our present varieties are resistant to ergot, farmers must depend upon cultural practices to control this disease. The most important of these are: (1) the use of ergot-free seed, (2) crop rotation, (3) deep plowing or cultivation of the stubble, particularly when the crop has been severely attacked by ergot, to bury the fallen ergot bodies deeply in the soil, and (4) early cutting of wild and cultivated grasses.

The ergot control measure we want to emphasize at this time is the early cutting of susceptible wild and cultivated grasses (brome, quack grass, blue grass, etc.) growing near grain fields. These should be cut soon after they come into head. This will prevent the formation of ergot bodies in the grass heads. The spread of, and possible losses from, ergot can be reduced appreciably by keeping headlands and roadsides adjacent to grain fields free of wild and cultivated grasses.

Let there be no mistake about it: if Canada is to maintain its reputation as a producer of high quality grain crops, more attention must be paid to ergot control in Western Canada.

Alberta Driver-Testing Program Designed To Spot Weaknesses

EDMONTON, Alta. (BUP)—New motorists in Alberta are finding out about their driving abilities—and limitations—before they get their licenses.

Under the government's new driver testing program, each new applicant for a driver's license undergoes a comprehensive series of tests which tell how he will react in all varied incidents met in driving a car.

The first step in the test is a written examination on the rules of the road. Any one of three prepared examinations may be given the applicant, who must be able to answer accurately, questions on speed limits and the best method of controlling the car in various driving experiences.

Then comes the psycho-physical test, which evaluates the driver's vision, by means of a visual survey telebinocular. This modified stereoscope gives the applicant a three-dimensional view of cards bearing various symbols. The applicant must tell the examiner what he sees.

The psycho-physical test also reveals any color-blindness on the part of the applicant, and the extent of his ability to judge distances.

The third part of the test is the actual road examination. Before applicant and examiner sit in a car, the applicant makes sure that headlights, brakes and tires are in good order. Next, the new driver takes examiner through a routine of parallel parking, left and right turns, and turns through traffic lights.

Those who fail to pass all parts of the test are not necessarily deprived of a driver's license. The examiner tells the applicant his weaknesses, so he knows when he should exercise special caution. Members of the staff believe that much is gained by pointing out the mistakes of the applicants in a pleasant, helpful manner.

The test must be taken by all those who are applying for their drivers' licenses for the first time, as well as by drivers whose licenses have been under suspension for traffic violations.

It was inaugurated July 6, 1953, for all persons living within a 15-mile radius of Edmonton and Calgary, and will be extended to other centres within a year.

Rights To Gas Worth $57,000

EDMONTON—The Alberta government has realized $57,000 from the sale of natural-gas rights on Peace River Block Crown reserves.

The reserves, in two parcels, totalled 12,392 acres. The Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas Company Ltd., paid $40,589 for 3,840 acres. Pacific Petroleum Ltd. paid $17,111 for 8,552 acres.

The Department of Mines and Minerals reported issuance of a petroleum and natural gas reservation on 27,520 acres of land in townships 91 and 92 to the Red Star Exploration Company Ltd.

Two reservations were terminated. The Socony Canadian Oil Company gave up rights to 95,010 acres in Townships 2 and 3, and the California Finlay Company released rights on 42,400 acres in Townships 73, 74 and 75.

Epoch Of A Little Boy

It only seems but yesteryear,
I guided baby feet,
And saw my son and kiddy car,
Go daily down the street.
And then it was a real trike
Much faster now he went,
The wind and he were comrades,
Now he would be content.

But somehow time's relentless pace,
Another page has flung,
He got a two wheeled bike today,
Although he's much too young!
And though I will time to stand still,
I know it won't be far
Into the future, 'til my son
Says, "Mom, I need a car!"

Low Fur Prices Eskimos Sell Carvings

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (BUP) — With the price of furs desperately low, the Canadian Eskimo is earning most of his livelihood by carving figures depicting life in the Northland.

The sculptures, done in black and gray colored stone, are flown here regularly, and are sold in a handicraft shop to tourists and miners.

A typical figure shows a polar bear and an Eskimo engaged in conflict. The bear is biting at the side of the Eskimo's face, while the sturdy native is piercing a knife into the animal.

The work is of black stone, except for the copper knife, made from ore found in the natural deposits at Coppermine, N.W.T.

"You don't expect to find lions and tigers on Long Island, do you?"

"Hardly, but I like a spice of danger in my hunting."

"If that's the case," answered the New Yorker, "I'm your man all right. The last time I went out I shot my brother in the leg."

Fewer Attend Edmonton Fair

EDMONTON (BUP)—The total turn-out at the exhibition was nearly 20,000 fewer than the previous year, due partly to less favorable weather conditions.

A total of 296,984 persons walked through the gate last week, compared with 316,809 in 1952. Pari-mutuel betting, however, rose by nearly $410,000 because of increased facilities. This year, $1,970,407 was bet compared with $1,560,479 in 1952.

Saturday was the only day this year when the total betting was below that of a similar day last year. Only $265,004 was turned in, compared with $284,393 the year before. About 3,000 fewer persons visited the grounds Saturday than on Saturday in 1952.

Cliff Ross of Edmonton held the lead in the chuckwagon racing to win first prize with a total time of 7 minutes and 49 4/5 seconds. Johnny Phelan of Red Deer, who came in first Saturday night, ranked second with a total time of 7 minutes and 52 3/5 seconds. Carl Barrett of Stettler came in third and also placed third with a week's aggregate of 7 minutes and 58 1/5 seconds.

Sewer Walk Saves Cat

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Hearing a kitten crying in a storm drain, Kili Kierluff, 36, attached a 150-foot wire to himself. Neighbors held it and he went into the drain. He spotted the kitten and reached for it. It backed away. Releasing himself from the wire, Kierluff followed the kitten from manhole to manhole. Finally, the kitten gave up and Kierluff emerged through a manhole—three and a half hours later and a half mile away from where he had started. He gave the kitten to a little girl, who named him "Sue" because he came from a sewer.

Crash Scatters Explosives

BIG ROCK, Ill.—When a tractor-trailer, loaded with tons of military explosives and torpedo warheads, and a cargo truck of merchandise collided here recently, explosives were scattered all over this small town but none of it exploded. The drivers thought to cut the ignition of their trucks before leaping from their cabs, preventing the gasoline from igniting. No one was hurt.

EDMONTON (BUP) — Martin Krysa, 63, is in the Royal Alexandra Hospital recovering from injuries received when his car struck a train last week.

Krysa suffered a fractured skull when his car collided with a CNR train at a level crossing at 50th St. near 126th Ave.

Hospital authorities said he is still unconscious. The car was a total wreck.

A second serious accident injured four persons in a head-on collision about midnight one mile east of Oliver, on the Fort Trail.

Injured were David Mackie, Fort Saskatchewan, and Mrs. Mackie; and Grace Stevenson and Fred Dux of Edmonton.

EDMONTON — The Farmers' Union of Alberta Tuesday announced increases in membership fees, effective November 1.

Present fees are $2.50 for individual adult members and 50 cents for persons 14 to 21. The new fees will be $6 for the family unit—man, wife and children 14 to 21; $4 for individual adult males, $3 for individual adult women, and $1 for individual juniors.

FIRST OF ITS KIND IN CANADA is this new wheel truing machine now in operation at the new $1,000,000 diesel plant being completed by the Canadian Pacific Railway at Nelson, B.C. The unit, shown in operation here, permits diesel locomotive wheels to be machined without removing either the wheels or trucks from under the locomotive, and will be used in the servicing of diesel locomotives operating on the Kootenay-Kettle Valley divisions of the C.P.R. in southern British Columbia. Its purpose is to restore by means of specially designed milling cutters the normal contour of the tread and flange of wheels worn by operation of locomotives over frequent, tight curves on the right-of-way through mountainous territory. Traffic Deaths, Mishaps Show Increase This Year

The Alberta Safety Council's report on traffic accidents for the first half year shows an increase of 25 per cent in accidents over the same period of 1952, and 49 per cent in deaths. Accidents so far total 7,857 as against last year's total of 6,272, and deaths are 82 as against 55 for last year.

In June there were no fatalities in the cities, the 18 deaths all occurring on rural highways in the province.

The increase in the number of accidents and deaths for June is 8.3 per cent and 12.5 per cent respectively over the same month last year.

The fact that all fatalities last month occurred on rural highways should be a warning to vacationists. The Alberta Safety Council suggests four common-sense rules for all vacation drivers.

Get an early start each day. In this way you get in your full quota of driving before sundown.

Whenever you get sleepy or tired while driving, stop for a rest, or pull off the road and stop for a nap.

ALWAYS—take it easy!

If you want to admire the scenery or other local attractions, stop.

F.U.A. Seeks $100,000 For New Offices

EDMONTON (BUP) — An appeal for $100,000 will be launched by the head office of the Farmers' Union of Alberta, Henry Young, president of the union, said here.

Talking On Phone, Woman Stricken

EDMONTON (BUP)—Mrs. F. H. Drayton, about 68, died in Edmonton last week of a heart seizure while she was talking on the telephone.

THINKS QUEBEC HUNTERS KILLED FOR $1,000, TRINKETS, EQUIPMENT

GASPE, Que.—Provincial police have roped off the area in which the headless bodies of three United States hunters were found while they checked a theory that a murderer tracked them into the woods and killed them for $1,000 cash.

Unconfirmed reports said a suspect already was in custody.

Dr. Lionel Rioux, coroner said police had a witness "who should know something about this."

The mangled bodies of Eugene Lindsey, 45, his son Richard 17, and Fred Claar, 20, all of Hollidaysburg, Pa., were found scattered through rugged bushland some 50 miles from here.

Officials thought at first they had been killed by bears, but disappearance of their valuables and $1,000 in currency prompted them to investigate the possibility of murder.

The bodies were three miles from their truck, which had a two week supply of food almost untouched. Woodsmen said it was doubtful that three men all armed with guns could be struck down by bears.

Solicitor General Antoine Rivard said in Quebec City that "there are so many strange elements a full probe is necessary."

"Before we are able to draw any conclusions we must await the report on another matter which we are investigating but cannot be divulged at this time."

Rioux said the skulls of the dead men had not yet been found.

Mrs. Lindsey says she has no faith in the theory that her husband, or her son were killed by bears.

"I don't for a moment believe bears could have killed three men who were experienced hunters and who had the best of shooting equipment," she said. "My husband left here with almost $1,000 and many pieces of equipment which have not been found. The truck is stripped, and there is no evidence of wrist watches, binoculars and other equipment they had when they left home."

"My husband wasn't a showoff. I think somebody followed them into the woods and killed them."

Record lows are set by U.S. bonds prices.

Hail Damage Figures Up

The high figure of half a million acres is being estimated as the total crop destroyed in Alberta during the heavy hailstorms this season.

Only Tuesday was a clearer picture beginning to emerge of the full disaster to growing crops by the terrific thunderstorms of the last week.

Claims for insurance reaching Alberta Hail Insurance Board at Calgary have already exceeded 2,000 this summer, after another 300 were received Tuesday for damage occurring this month.

The storm which lashed a long belt through central Alberta on July 18 from Balzac through Strathmore to the Saskatchewan border was described by farmers as the worst for 40 years.

John and Nick Akkerman, farmers at Strathmore, reported their loss at high as $35,000 when 940 acres of crops were flattened.

Strathmore school was damaged to the extent of $10,000 and almost every house in the town of 800 population had roofs or glass smashed.

All the north windows of the Sacred Heart Church were broken while the Legion hall lost eight windows.

2,000 Greet Movie Star

JASPER, Alta. (BUP)—Marilyn Monroe, vivacious Hollywood screen star attracted about 2,000 persons to the CNR station when she arrived here.

Miss Monroe, who will star in 20th Century Fox production "River of No Return," posed for scores of snapshots by amateur and professional photographers.

Almost unnoticed on the same train were Robert Mitchum and Rory Calhoun, who will also star in the production, director Otto Preminger, Mitchum's wife and 16-month-old daughter, and Calhoun's wife.

Each morning, a special train will take the stars, camera crews and technicians and special equipment, to Devona, 21 miles east of Jasper, where the technician movie will be filmed.

CORONATION After-Lites . . .

THOUGH Britain's Queen was officially crowned on June 2nd, the round of activities connected with Coronation year, did not subside until last week. The Queen, and her consort Prince Philip attended a multitude of functions, both military and social during the days and weeks which followed the coronation.

ONE OF THE sidelights in the late news of the Coronation was the announcement of the return of LAC Charles Bégin, RCAF, whose striking resemblance to the Duke of Edinburgh has earned for him the nickname "The Duke." LAC Bégin was among the RCAF personnel who attended the Coronation.

Coronation Armada Makes Impressive Spectacle At Spithead

ONE OF THE QUEEN'S first duties after her Coronation was to attend the review of the naval armada at Spithead. One of the most impressive gatherings of fighting ships ever seen, the Armada stretches for seven miles along the coast of Spithead.

JUNIOR SERVICE PROVIDES IMPRESSIVE FLY-PAST

WHEN THE QUEEN reviewed the air-force, there were air-craft of all types in use by the Commonwealth air-force units. The fly-past, an exceptional bit of planning and timing, was an impressive sight, not the least of which was this formation E II.

Named In Queen's Coronation Honor List

ARMY PERSONNEL came in for their share of honor during the Coronation too. Besides reviewing troops, the Queen named several to her honors list. Two Canadians listed for awards were Lieut. Loomis, left, of Deep River, Ont., who received the Military Cross, and Major J. McLaughlin of Ottawa, who was made a member of the Order of the British Empire.

BUT A MOTHER AT HEART

DESPITE HER busy round of reviews and functions, despite her ever pressing duties of state, Queen Elizabeth still finds time to share in the quiet, happy joys of family life, with her two children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent

Prime Minister Uses "Cold Facts" To Dispel "Hot Air"

The Progressive Conservative promise to cut taxes by $500,000,000 was an attempt to "mislead the public," Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent said Saturday as he linked by implication this promise to a similar one made, but not fulfilled, by the U.S. Republican party in the last U.S. federal election.

In his first reference to U.S. politics during this campaign, the prime minister implied that the Republican party was elected by promising the voters such "hot air" as tax cuts they couldn't deliver.

He made the statement before 600 persons in the Palliser Hotel Saturday at a luncheon sponsored by the Calgary North and Calgary South Liberal Associations. The prime minister was introduced by Harold W. Riley, QC, Liberal candidate in Calgary North, and thanked by E. J. McCormick, party candidate in Calgary South.

In a chatty amiable manner, Mr. St. Laurent made the remarks about the U.S. political scene while issuing a blast against the Conservative 16-point platform. He did not mention the U.S. by name but spoke of "another country" that had given aid to free countries but not to Canada. However, his reference to "mink coats" made it obvious he was speaking of the U.S.

The American reference followed an attack he made on an editorial in a Conservative newspaper which had charged him with telling "bedtime" stories of the depression of the 1930's. Canadians, the editorial said, should now know the difference between "hot air and cold facts."

Mr. St. Laurent denied the Liberals ever had portrayed the Conservatives as makers of the depression, but he agreed Canadians should know the difference between "hot air" and "cold facts"—the hot air of the Progressive Conservative promises and the cold facts of Liberal policy.

"And now I have a little bedtime story with a moral," said Mr. St. Laurent.

"Once upon a time in another land a political party had been out of office so long it was apparently willing to try any kind of hot air to blow its way in.

"Now it so happened that government of that other land had not been paying its way out of taxes and it had not been reducing the debt of the country and it had not been cutting taxes. In fact, its finances had very little in common with Canada's in the last few years.

"Well, this political party that had been out of office so long didn't bother about these cold facts. Oh no, it just went merrily along promising to balance the budget and reduce taxes perhaps by the simple expedient of eliminating all the mink coats in that country.

"And the people believed them and put them in office," said Mr. St. Laurent. He couldn't say what had happened to the mink coats—Canada hadn't had that kind of problem for some time—"but I can tell you that they haven't been able to keep their promises to balance the budget and they are begging the people not to ask them to keep their promises to reduce the taxes they find they need quite desperately to meet the cold facts of life."

While ridiculing Progressive Conservative election pledges as "hot air," Mr. St. Laurent reiterated that the Liberals, while making no exact promises, will continue to make tax cuts if Canada's sensational income continues to rise.

On one point Mr. St. Laurent agreed with the Progressive Conservatives—it was time for a change from the Progressive Conservatives and Social Crediters who hold seats in southern Alberta to Liberals.

At several points in his talk the Prime Minister brought applause as he scaled opposition promises.

He warned his audience that, before they accept at face value the promises of the CCF, Social Credit and Conservatives, they should "ask for the cold facts as to how they are to be carried out."

Touching on past Alberta political history, he stated, "I believe that Aberhart's $25 a month was to come from debt free money and the people of Alberta know that the nearest approach Alberta

Well-Known Taxidermist Dies

EDMONTON — Canada lost one of its most colorful and interesting citizens on Sunday morning in the passing of Albert Sidney Wolfe. Mr. Wolfe had been in the taxidermy business for over 30 years, having served his apprenticeship with his older brother, William Wolfe, who died some years ago. Many friends, American (especially Texas) and Mexican hunters will mourn his passing as well as hunters from all parts of Canada and even from overseas.

Born in Bath, Somerset, England, Mr. Wolfe came to this country as a young lad, and after farming in Manitoba for a short period, he went north with hunting parties, finally settling in Edmonton in the taxidermy business.

Several photographers have won substantial prize through pictures taken of his mountings. His work, especially on mountain sheep and goat as well as other North American game, was unequalled anywhere in the world, as all hunters who dealt with him would agree.

Mr. Wolfe was for years a member of a religious male quartette over the radio. He was active in choir and welfare work all his life. In latter years he sang with First Baptist Church Choir, Edmonton until his illness prevented his continuing in that service.

Survivors include his loving wife, three sons, Eric of Rockford, Illinois; Clifford of Seattle; Kenneth of Vancouver, B.C., and two small children, Lois Ann and Sidney at home.

Rev. James R. Cox will officiate at funeral services in Andrews-McLaughlin funeral chapel Thursday at 1:45 p.m. Burial in the Westlawn Memorial Cemetery.

ever had to debt-free money was when the provincial government stopped paying interest on public debt. And since then they should backtrack on that."

Bremner Man Wins Tilling Competition

BREMNER — At the plowing match which took place at the farm of William Schroter, the ladies of Bremner and Ardrossan Women's Associations looked after the tent where refreshments were dispensed during Friday. As the weather was rather threatening and the ground damp, the crowd was not as large as expected, but luck was with the match, and not a drop of rain fell in the area.

On Saturday, with the weather still in their favor, the ladies of Clover Bar and Salisbury took over, catering to a larger crowd. Children were much in evidence, enjoying the tours which were conducted by three tractor and trailer outfits.

One of Bremner's young men, Dave Cowan, won both days in the tilling competition for the larger outfits.

LIBERALS GAINS FOR ALBERTA FORECAST BY P.M.'s SON

EDMONTON—In a prediction made in Edmonton recently, Jean Paul St. Laurent, son of the Prime Minister, forecast that the Liberal party would be returned with increased strength shown in Alberta, Newfoundland and Quebec. He said some might occur in the Maritimes and Ontario.

Mr. St. Laurent was in Edmonton to work in the Liberal campaign in this province and expects to spend several weeks in Alberta.

Considering the national vote province-by-province, with the results he expects from the Aug. 10 federal election, Mr. St. Laurent said he thinks his party will double their five seats in Alberta which they won in the election of 1949.

He indicated that one of the five new seats might be Peace River where the Social Credit national leader, Solon Low is running for re-election. Mr. St. Laurent said Peace River should have gone Liberal in the last election, but at that time there were certain weaknesses that have since been corrected. He stated he would like to see the Liberal representation spread over a wider area.

His opinions on the election, Mr. St. Laurent said, were based on reports received in the east before he started his trip west. This is what he predicted for other provinces.

Newfoundland—An increase of seats from five to six and possibly seven.

Quebec—Slight gains resulting from winning three or four seats from the PC's but losing two from too much Liberal strength. In some Quebec constituencies, Liberal candidates are running against fellow Liberals thus splitting the vote.

Ontario—Some losses were anticipated for Ontario, but the Liberals are expected to obtain the majority.

Maritimes—Expect a drop of two or three seats.

Mr. St. Laurent did not detail the other provinces, but he said that in Manitoba the Liberals are very happy, and though B.C. is Social Credit "provincially" it will go to the Liberals in the federal house. In Saskatchewan the CCF were losing ground federally.

He gave Social Credit little chance, stating that voters in Canada "will not go for a party that is basically a one-province group."

Mr. St. Laurent said he had no desire to follow his father into politics. He said he is working for the defeat of the Duplessis government in Quebec, which, he declared poses a threat to Canada's democratic system of government.

Praise For The Lodge

The Ottawa Citizen says, "When Jasper Lodge burned down last summer, there was widespread sadness in Canada at the destruction of a building that had become almost a national landmark. The tears were premature. The Toronto Star reports, with some awe, that after nine months' labor by 400 men working double shift, a new Lodge has been opened this week. The Canadian National Railways handled the logistics problem in a manner befitting the organizers of the Normandy Invasion. Factories redesigned their output, and 3,000 tons of stone, steel and cement were hauled to the building site. The completed job is a credit to the Railway's administrative staff.

"The public's sentimental attachment to the old Lodge should shift to the new structure without difficulty. For all its beauty, the old building was after all as much a symbol as a material thing. It stood for the big sky and bracing air, for dim trails, and for the untameable. The new Lodge represents these same things. For most Canadians, in fact, it can hardly be anything but a symbol. Its cabins accommodate 650, of whom 80 per cent are usually Americans. But Canadians can view Jasper Lodge as residents of Long Island think of a Broadway show. There is always the satisfaction of knowing that it is there."

Civil Service On 5-Day Week

EDMONTON (BUP) — About 4,000 Alberta civil servants will start working a five-day week Monday, under a new work schedule approved recently by the provincial cabinet.

Economic Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke said civil servants will be off the job Saturdays but that employees of Land Titles offices and court houses, whose hours are set by statute, will continue to work five and one-half days.

The new hours for government employees benefiting from the scheme will be from 8:30 to 11:45 a.m. and from 1 to 5 p.m. Former working schedule was from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m., and 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Working hours in provincial Treasury Branches will be the same as those in other banks.

A FARM POLICY FOR YOU!

A PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENT AT OTTAWA will give you ACTION on the following:

1. 100% Wheat Board.
2. Stronger Producer representation on the Wheat Board at policy levels.
3. Initial grain prices based on costs of production.
4. Advances on grain stored on the farm.
5. Immediate steps to restore and expand world markets for farm products.
6. Floor Prices related to farm production costs and announced well in advance of each crop season.

These are sound practical policies.
Canadian Agriculture needs these policies.

The present Government has refused to put these policies into effect...

WE CAN... WE WILL!

On March 23, 1953, John Diefenbaker said "I believe that Canadian farmers are asking for fair farm levels that bear some relationship to the prices of the products the farmer has to purchase. Therefore, I intend to move an amendment very similar to the one this party has moved on previous occasions, that:

"In the opinion of this house consideration should be given by the government to the advisability of introducing during the present session legislation to provide floor prices for agricultural products at such levels as to ensure producers a fair price-cost relationship."

This motion was voted down by the Liberal majority.
